NEW YORK, 8; PITTSBURG, 7. A rally that came at a time when victory seemed an impossibility saved the New Yorks from defeat at the hands of the Pittsburgs at the Polo Grounds yesterday. After Joyce's men had virtually handed the contest to the visitors by indescribably poor fielding, they pulled themselves together, and, urged on by 2,000 cheering rooters, they took the game out Too much praise cannot be bestowed upon the work of Charley Gettig, the young pitcher, who work of Charley Gettig, the young pitcher, who has been with the Newarks all season. He pitched finely under the discouraging circumstances, and hit the ball, too. His only weakness, which has hitherto been regarded as his strong point, was shown in handling bunted balls. He might have been nervous owing to his sudden leap back into fast company, so that his blunders were excused by the crowd. Joyce, Gleason, Davis, and Tiernan made surprising mistakes, sil of which helped the visitors in their run making. Poor coaching by Warner, a fallure to call the name of either Davis or Gleason to catch a fly which resulted in a pretty bad collision, lack of judgment in hitting at the proper time when men were on bases, and other mistakes made the final spurt of the locals all the more remarkable and at the same time commendable.

But errors by the Pittsburgs, too, did plenty of damage, for had Harry Davis, Ely, and Rothfuss accepted chances offered the New Yorks would not have made six runs in the seventh inning. Pitcher Killen, though, was partially to blame for the slaughter. He had been pitching effectively, but when the crisis came he lost his nerve, and his delivery was buffeted all over the lot. When the seventh inning ended with the New Yorks ahead, it was rapidly growing dark. It was then be cock, and O'Day called the game, which, in view of the fact that darkness ended the second game on Tuesday at about 5:30, made the unprie's ruling decidedly reasonable and fair. Capt. Donovan of the Pittsburgs, Padden, Brodie and others took exception to the decision and kicked furiously. They were palpably wrong in making such a demonstration, and should have been disciplined. O'Day, who was unassisted, as Carpenter had been called to Washington, umpired perfectly, although Brodie and Sudden saw fit to actchildishly over imaginary wrongs. To the credit of the New Yorks, when they were behind they played clean, contomnally ball and won on their merits.

they played clean, contiomanly ball and won on their merits.

Donovan opened for Pitttsburg with a little fly over second base. It was Davis's ball and both he and Gleason ran to get under it. Neither heard any instructions as to which should make the catch, and as a result they collided with great force. Gleason bounded off unhurt, but the wind was completely knocked out of the great shortstop. Davis resumed play after several minutes' rest, and Padden flied out. Smith hit to Davis and Donovan would have been forced at second had not Gleason muffed the throw. Harry Davis jabbed a single to left on which Donovan scored, and Rothfuss flied the bases with a pretty bunt. It was a test of Gettig's nerve, but he did not faiter, and Davis pulled him out of his predicament by holping Clark in a double play.

Van Haltren had luck with him when he tied the score in New York's half. He sinxied to centre and went to second on McCresry's sacrifice. Then, as Tiernan struck out, Van was caught starting to steal third. It locked like a cinch out, but Killen threw the ball three feet over the third baseman's head, and Van rattled on to the plate.

cinch out, but Killen threw the ball three feet over the third baseman's head, and Van rattled on to the plate.

Both pitchers did splendid work in the next two innings, Gettig showing fine command and plenty of good nerve. In the fourth a great throw in by M. Creery after Sugden had singled helped to nail the latter between first and second.

The New Yorks went to pieces in the first half of the fifth, and began to size Killen up in the last half. Killen, by the way, opened the inning with a grounder, which, though sharp, ought to have been cleanly handled by Joyce. A wild pitch advanced the runner to second. Denovan with a grounder, which, though sharp, ought to have been cleanly handled by Joyce, A wild pitch advanced the runner to second. Denovan bunted, and Gettig fumbled the ball. Padden singled to left, and as Tiernan let the ball go past him, Killen and Denovan scored, and the batsman reached second.

Smith kept up the arony by bunting and got a life on Joyce's poor throw. Harry Davis forced smith and Padden scored the third run. Rothfuss put Harry Davis on third with a hit and promptly deshed for second. Warner threw to George Davis, who made a square muff, his namesake running in from third and Rothfuss reaching second.

"Put in Rusie!" yelled a man in the grand stand. The injustice of the remark was made apparent when at least a dozen men jumped up and gave the would-be manager a deserved tongue-lashing.

and gave the would-be manager a deserved tongue-lashing.

"You're all right, Gettig!" was the cry that followed from nearly everybody, and when the visitors were finally retired, the young pitcher was loudly cheered. In the last half, with one out and Joyce a recipient of four balls, Gettig singled, but was forced by Van Haltren. McCreery drove a peach of a double to left and Joyce scored. As Van Haltren rounded third, Warner, who was coaching, fell asleep, so that the Californian was thrown out at the plate with a yard or two to spare.

the Californian was thrown out at the plate with a yard or two to spare.

Gettig struck two men out in the sixth and the third man wont out to Bill Clark. Then Tiernan began New York's half with a hit, but the next three men couldn't do anything.

The visitors increased their lead in the seventh by making two runs on Padden's scratch to Joyce, a wild pitch, Gettig's fumble of Smith's bunt, a base on balls, and Rothfuss's third safe hit, which sent in Padden, Smith making the other run on an out.

ount, a base on balls, and Rothruss's third safe hit, which sent in Padden, Smith making the other run on an out.

It was a lead of five runs, therefore, that had to be overcome by the New Yorks when they went to the bat in the last half. Warner rolled one to Harry Dayls and trotted slowly toward first, thinking, no doubt, that he was a sure out. But Dayls's throw was wide and Warner was safe, although he might have been caught had Rothfulss gone after the ball quicker.

That was a starter, and the crowd began to the roll of the wild cheer of delight, for Gettig had counted and McCreery, by a sprint, had reached second on the error.

Old Reliable Tiernan came to time with a clean-cut two-bagger, and McCreery scored in another burst of speed, George Davis hit to Ely, whose rather wide throw was muffed by Rothfuss, and the runner was safe. As one run was needed to tie the score, the Pittsburg infield played for the plate, and when Gleason hit the ball to Padden, Tiernaniwas pinned down by Sugden a yard from the rubber.

That made two out, and the crowd became silent, for all knew that game would be called when the third man was out. Just then Davis and Gleason made a most daring double stead, which was the beginning of the end. It was so quickly done that Sugden made no attempt to throw to third, and Killen looked worried.

Hig Bill Clark, who can kill a ball if it comes to him right, toed the scratch and the crowd watched him breathlessly. Killen finally put the ball over and the lumbering first baseman smashed it like a cannon shot to right field. Davis rushed across the plate with the tieing run and tileason followed a few feet behind with the winning talls, Clark being thrown out at second by Donovan. Then O'Day called the game and the cranks were up in arms at their good fortune. The score:

PRILADELPHIA, Sept. 8.—Chicago took the first game from the home team to-day in one of the most exciting games seen here this season. The home team lost the game in the last inning by making its only errors of the game on easy chances, which, combined with Orth's only base on balls, let the Colts score three unearned rims. The features of the game were two wonderful catches by Everett and another by Hyan, and Nash's great fielding and hitting. The score:

Two of the clubs, salamanders of Brooklyn and Owls of this city, were stricken from the roll for failing to win six games, last season. It was agreed that the old clubs as well as the new applicants pay their entrance fee and hand in their list of members at the next meeting, to be held on Friday, Sept. 17, when the membership list will be closed. The regular tourns ment will begin on Monday, Oct. 4, and the preliminary series, should there be more applications than vacancies, will be held the week previous. All cluts desiring to compete should send their applications to Joe Thum, 391 Bowery. Valence, from the Hamlin Stable, was made favorite at $50, the field end selling for $30. The race was practically confined to the favor-ite and the Long Island trotter King Chimes, who was one of the Village Farm's cast-offs two years ago. The latter, who carries enough iron on his fore feet to effectually anchor an ordinary trotter, was in racing mood yesterday, and the clip he cut out was too much for the favor-ite, who could never get near enough to be really dangerous. King Chimes carries over thirty ounces of iron on each front foot. At the Waverly Fair. The first heat had quite an exciting incident not down on the programme. Shortly after the start one of Bell on's reins broke, and Kelly found himself with one rein behind a badly found himself with one rein centing a carry started horse dashing through the field. Guld-ing the horse with the remaining rein and the trace the circuit of the track was made in safe y to the stretch, where Mounted Officer Frawley, by clever horsemanship, succeeded in stopping the lower. city of the sun's rays.

Those who went to the New Jersey State Fair at Waverly yesterday enjoyed the show under better conditions than those who braved the heat on Monday and Tuesday. The dust was laid by several little showers during the night and the clouds during the day modified the fero-

To-day will be the great day for all but the bi-cyclists. It is "Governor's Day," but the presence of Gov. Griggs is likely to be overshadowed by the appearance on the hill of the portly form by the appearance on the hill of the portly form of Vice-President Garret A. Hobart. Gov. Grikgs and Vice-President Hobart will go down from Paterson upon a special trolley car.

An incident of the day was the attack made by a $2,000 prize bull upon a boy who was blanketing him in a pen back of the main building. The bull belongs to McLaury Brothers of Oswego, and James Wilson, aged 19, of 103 East Broadway, was employed to take care of him. Wilson was in the pen with the buil yesterday afternoon when the animal turned upon him and butted him twice. The bull failed to catch Wilson with his horns, but on the second onslaught drove him through the boards of the rotten pen and Wilson rolled flown the hill to a place of eafety. The buil did not attempt to follow up its advantage and the pen was hurriedly repaired. Wilson was taken to the First Ald tent and straightened out. He was not badly hurt, and attributed his escape to the frail condition of the pen.

POLICE STOP THE FIGHT.

M'COT-RYAN BOUT DECLARED DRAW BY THE REFEREE.

For Four Bounds They Indulge in Comparatively Tame Work, in Which Ryan Mos a Slight Advantage—Then the Blueconts Interfere and the Crowd Is Disappointed.

SYRACUSE, Sept. 8,-The rumor that gained currency at 6 o'clock this evening to the effect that the Ryan-McCoy fight would be stopped if Ryan appeared to be getting the best of it proved true. In the middle of the fifth round, when everything appeared to be lovely and the nen were only warmed to the work cut out for them, Inspector O'Brien and a squad of policemen jumped into the ring and put an end to the contest. Friends of Ryan, said to be influential with the Police Department, had backed him heavily. When McCoy arrived they are said to have be come nervous and wanted to hedge. The only thing was to get the police to interfere at a time when Ryan appeared to have the best of the bat-tle. Unluckly for the sports who came long distances to see the battle, this occurred early in the fight, which was scheduled for twenty rounds for a purse of $5,000, the winner to take all. The preliminary bout between Selby and Haley was a brutal exhibition from the first blow, but was not stopped until the third round. The clubhouse of the Empire A. C., where the fight was hold, is the old Albambra rink, with a scating capacity of 8,600. To-night 2,800 persons occupied the seats. Police Inspector O'Brien, with the city's entire day squad of and stopped them when they saw fit. The big event was enough of a novelty to call out a more than ordinary gathering. In the crowd were seen prominent lawyers and lead-ing physicians. "Parson" Davies for a short time touched elbows with a recently ordained minister of the gospel, and a Presbyterian at that, Frank Matty, President of the Common Council, occupied a prominent seat at the ring-

The feeling among the fraternity a short time

nd. cvn.—Ryan led, missed, and slipped to the men climbed. Movey jabbed Ryan in the fryan was lighting all around McCoy when Inspector O'Brien began waving his hands and shouting to Referee Siler to stop it. It was not apparent for a minute just what this action meant. Nobody thought for a minute that the battle would be stopped, because the men were going it lightly. They had scarcely struck a hard blow, but the police crowded into the ring and dispersed principals and seconds.

Synactors, Sept. 8.—San Austin came to this city to-day to arrange a match between Dan Creedon and Rid" McCoy before the cith offering the largest purse. He has an offer from one cith of $12,000, and from smather of 60 per cent. of gate receipts. The match was made, both men agreeing to a forfeit of $1,000 in case they refuse to sign articles. They are to have four week time. For a purse so hig as that effects the men will undoubtedly be brought together.

to have four weeks time. For a pures so big as that offered the men will undoubtedly be brought together. New ORLEANS, Sept. 8.—As the result of the recent McFarland-Everhardt fight given in St. Bernard parish and which caused such dissatisfaction, the Tulane Athletic Club has been formed here. It waited on Mayor Flower and asked for permission to give fights in the city, and announced the intention to erect on Tulane avenue an arona to seat 15,000 persons. A return fight between McFarland and Everhardt will be the first given by the club, and both the men are said to have telegraphed their acceptance.

Full-analismus, Sept. 8.—Charles McKeever of this city and Young Griffo of Australia met in a fifteenround contest before the Gymbic Club at Athens, Delaware county, last night, and the referre called it a draw. Griffo was ful, while the local man looked too fine, which, however, was not the case, in the first part of the contrast Griffo clearly outpointed McKeever, laming continually on the wind, besides getting in some terrific straight hand face jals. His defence was as wonderful as ever and McKeever could do nothing but set in an eccasional jab in the jaw or in the ribs. When no effect, and McKeever began to force matters, breaking down his opponent's defence and hitting him with telling effect on the body. Griffo was a warry of him during the last two rounds, and concented himself with defensive work entirely. Even the fire warre forced him to the ropes twice with a shower of blows. The gong sounded with both men much fatigued.

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 8.—Much excitement has been caused in sporting circles in British Columbia owing to the action of the Canadian Wheelmen's Association in suspending all riders in recent hig British Columbia meets for riding against American racers who had pulled away from the League of American Wheelmen in the West. Owing to their ridiculously stringent rules it appears that the C. W. A. and the L. A. W. are a unit on racing matters and at the instance of the American League of Wheelmen, the C. W. A. closed up the British Columbia tracks. The British Columbia clubs (and, according to population, there are more racers and riders here than in any part of Canada) met to-day and decided to throw in their lot with the American riders of the Pacific Coast and form a new interpational association for coast circuit racing.

Tononto, Ontario, Sept. 8.—Manufacturers of Canadian bicycles are kicking about the injury done to their trade through the importation of cheap American wheels. The results to the Canadian trade, they say, from these importations have been very disastrous. It was found that some 80 per cent, of all wheels sold in Canada were of American manufacture, and many of them wheels that came from Michigan were of prison manufacture, and it was stated by one Canadian manufacturers at the meeting held to-day to devise means of stopping this importation of wheels, that very large numbers of wheels sent to Canadia from Chicago were made largely by women and girls. The Canadian manufacturers will ask the Canadian tiovernment to place a specific duty on tian Government to place a specifi wheels of $10 up to the value of $50. London, Sept. 8.
